WELCOME TO HARRISON STATE FOREST

Acquisition of the first state forests began in 1916, originally to be used as testing grounds for reforestation of tree species. Land acquisition later broadened to include land of scenic and recreational values and to restore forest cover to land that had been abandoned and abused. Today, Ohio’s 21 state forests cover nearly 200,000 acres and provide an abundance of benefits for everyone to enjoy. With the advantage of decades of management, Ohio’s foresters are enhancing nature’s growth cycle, and the state forests continue to produce some of the finest hardwood trees in the world. Forest management activities such as timber stand improvement, prescribed fire and harvesting are employed to enhance the health, vigor and natural regeneration of the forest. But foresters’ concerns go well beyond the trees. Evaluations of water, soil, wildlife habitat, age and condition of the vegetation, recreational opportunities and aesthetics are considered in preparation of area management plans. This process ensures that visitors may enjoy many outdoor activities, including camping, hiking, horseback riding, wildlife watching, hunting and scenic touring.

HARRISON STATE FOREST

Harrison State Forest is located in Harrison County approximately 3 miles north of Cadiz.

FOREST HISTORY

The 1,345-acre Harrison State Forest was purchased in 1961. A substantial portion of the land had been strip mined for coal prior to acquisition. However, the production of acid mine water is minimal because of the neutralizing effect of limestone deposits. The majority of unstriped lands are located on ridges or in valleys, and are in forest cover. Early reforestation efforts and installation of recreation facilities were funded through the Appalachian Region Development Act of 1966 and the Ohio Capital Improvement Program to restore the area suitable for public use. Reforestation efforts have continued on various reclaimed areas of the state forest to increase woodland habitat.

HUNTING AND FISHING

Hunting and fishing are permitted on the state forest under the ODNR Division of Wildlife regulations. Shooting is prohibited within 400 feet of any building, facility or recreation area, and is prohibited from or across any road or driveway. Discharge of any firearm except during lawful hunting is also not permitted, except on the rifle range. A 100-yard rifle range, located in the center of the forest, is provided for Ohians to practice marksmanship or sight in firearms for accuracy. Observers are required to furnish their own paper or clay targets and must clean up their casings and debris before leaving. The range is open daily from one half-hour before sunrise to one half-hour after sunset. Users must wear eye and ear protection. Range rules are posted.

CAMPING

Two campgrounds equipped with picnic tables and vault latrines are available. Ronsheim Campground on the east side of the forest includes seven family campsites. Trailriders Campground is located on the west side of the forest and includes 21 campsites that accommodate family and/or bridle camping. Campers must provide their own water and self-register. Campers self-register by filling out cards located in registration boxes at restrooms. Law enforcement officers patrol the area and can familiarize visitors with camping regulations. There is no charge for camping.

TRAILS

Twenty-four miles of combined bridle and hiking trails are located throughout the state forest. Parking areas are located near trail intersections.
